TCC Group Offers Nonprofits a Price Reduction on Core Capacity Assessment Tool

New York, New York – TCC Group is currently offering nonprofit organizations the opportunity to purchase its Core Capacity Assessment Tool (CCAT) at the special discount price of $200, a $100 savings. The CCAT allows an organization to analyze its four core capacities, in addition to its organizational culture. This online survey is the most comprehensive of its kind and provides users with a report analyzing their organization's strengths and providing recommendations for future growth and change.

TCC Senior Vice President and Director of Research Peter York says, "We believe in the work nonprofits do, and we want to offer a price reduction as a way to help organizations build the skills they need during tough times. TCC Group recently analyzed the CCAT results of 700 nonprofits to understand how they can best remain financially sustainable. The data from our report shows that it is critical for nonprofits to address leadership capacity challenges in order to achieve their mission and vision."

During September and October, nonprofit organizations can purchase the CCAT for $200 on the CCAT website, www.tcccat.com. The offer is limited to one purchase per customer. Organizations must be able to verify nonprofit status.
